

Meet Some of Edmund Rice's Descendants: A Few Notable Rice Women Cousins

Michael A. Rice, Treasurer
Edmund Rice (1638) Association, Inc.

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Summary

- Mary Ashton (Rice) Livermore (1820–1905), Abolitionist, nurse, journalist, community organizer and early suffragette
- Laura Ingalls Wilder (1867–1957), author of Little House on the Prairie
- Rose Wilder-Lane (1886–1968), daughter of Laura Wilder, author and a co-founder of the modern Libertarian Movement
- Kathleen Creighton Starr Rice (1882-1963), Canadian mathematics professor, explorer, and mining executive
- Lilian Jeannette Rice (1889-1938), California-born architect popularizing the Spanish Colonial Revival Style

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Mary Ashton (Rice) Livermore (1820–1905)

- Born 19 Dec 1820 in Boston to Timothy Rice & Zebiah Vose (Ashton) Rice
- From young age raised in strict Baptist Calvinist
- 1834 went to Baptist women's seminary in Cambridge; by 1836 graduates and joins faculty
- 1838 meets Angelina Grimke; 1839 takes tutoring job in VA & witnesses slave beatings
- Returns to MA in 1842 as headmistress of girls school & began abolitionist writing
- Married Unitarian minister Daniel Parker Livermore on 6 May 1845 & had 3 daughters (Daniel Livermore was an Edmund Rice Descendant as well)

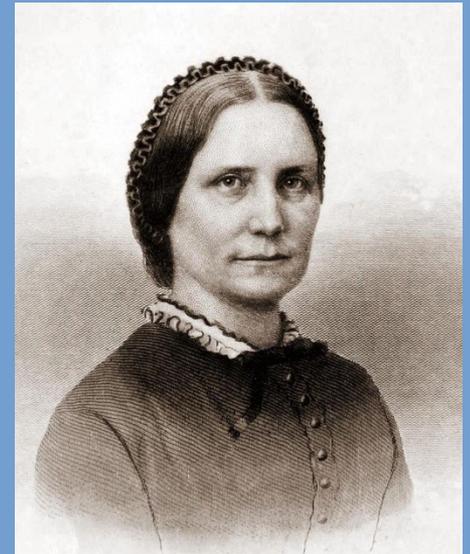

Engraving by A.H. Ritchie 1867

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Mary Ashton (Rice) Livermore (1820–1905)

- In 1844 published The Children's Army at beginning of temperance movement
- In 1848 published A Mental Transformation; a novel on a woman's rejection of Baptist beliefs
- In 1857 moved to Chicago & was associate editor of husband's Universalist newspaper New Covenant
- Only female reporter at 1860 GOP convention
- Took up causes such as hospitals for poor & organized women into Sanitary Societies to collect & deliver medical supplies for Union troops (raised over $1 million)
- Postwar focus on suffrage; "a large portion of the nation's work was badly done . . . because woman was not recognized as a factor in the political world." (1897 Autobiography)

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Mary Ashton (Rice) Livermore (1820–1905)

- In 1868 formed Illinois Women's Suffrage Assn & led lobbying to pass law granting women's right to keep own earnings.
- In 1869 founded The Agitator, focusing on a host of women's issues
- Later in 1869 family moved to Boston; she became editor of Women's Journal of the Women's Suffrage Association (WSA) (merging w/ The Agitator).
- From 1872 to 1895 took up public lecturing
- In 1873 presided over American Association for Advancement of Women, a moderate society promoting "women as thinkers" & from 1875-78 presided over WSA
- In 1887 wrote My Story of the War: A Woman's Narrative of Four Years of Personal Experience as Nurse in the Union Army.

1901 portrait in US
Library of Congress

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Mary Ashton (Rice) Livermore (1820–1905)

- In 1880s was a frequent contributor to the North American Review (edited by C. Allen Thorndyke Rice)
- Her 1897 autobiography The Story of My Life was highly influential
- The 1899 death of her husband affected her profoundly
- She died 23 May 1905 at her home in Melrose, MA

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 - 1912

Edmund Rice Ancestry of Mary Livermore

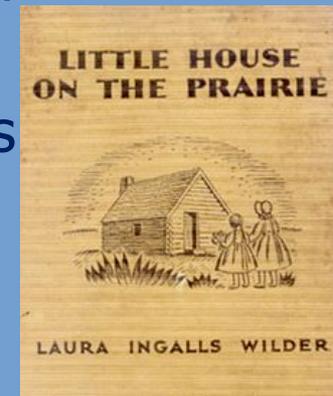

- Mary Ashton (Rice) Livermore, daughter of
- Timothy Rice (1789 – ?), son of
- Silas Rice (1749 – 1830), son of
- Silas Rice (1719 – 1800), son of
- Elisha Rice (1679 – 1761), son of
- Thomas Rice (1625/26 – 1681), son of
- Edmund Rice (ca 1594 – 1663)

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Laura Ingalls Wilder (1867–1957)

- Born Laura Elizabeth Ingalls on 7 Feb 1867 to Charles Phillip Ingalls and Caroline Lake (Quiner) Ingalls in Pepin County, WI
- Married Almanzo Wilder (1857-1949) also Edmund descendant; had daughter Rose Wilder Lane (1886-1968) & son who died young
- Began writing after death of her mother in 1924 & after 1929 stock market crash
- Most famous for “Little House” book series that were semi-autobiographical
- Active in libertarian politics later in life
- Died 10 Feb 1957 in Mansfield, MO

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Edmund Rice Ancestry of Laura Ingalls Wilder

- Laura Elizabeth Ingalls, daughter of
- Charles Phillip Ingalls (1836-1902), son of
- Laura Louise Ingalls (nee Colby) (1810-1883), daughter of
- Eunice Colby (nee Blood) (1782-1862), daughter of
- Eunice Blood (nee Sleeman) (1758- ?), daughter of
- Lydia Sleeman (nee Drury) (1736- ?), daughter of
- John Drury (1692?-1754), son of (also grandson of Lydia Rice Drury)
- Rachel Drury (nee Rice) (1664-1730), daughter of
- Henry Rice (1620-1711), son of
- Edmund Rice (ca 1594-1663)

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Rose Wilder-Lane (1886–1968)

- Born 5 Sep 1886 in DeSmet, Dakota Territory to Almanzo James Wilder and Laura Ingalls Wilder
- Went to high school in Mansfield, MO and Cowley, LA, graduating in 1904; never attended college but was self taught
- Learned telegraphy and was employed by Western Union 1904-09 in MO, IN, & CA
- In March 1909 she married Gillette Lane & they adopted a nomadic lifestyle
- Had stillborn son Nov 1909 in Salt Lake City
- Began freelance writing in 1910; & 1912-14 was real estate agent in San Jose

January 1921 portrait
from Wikimedia Commons

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Rose Wilder-Lane (1886–1968)

- By 1915, WWI had depressed real estate; was hired by Fremont Older of the San Francisco Bulletin as an editorial assistant & covered the Panama-Pacific Exposition
- She proved herself as a top writer & editor; befriending Jack London & Henry Ford
- In 1918 after 3yr separation, divorced Lane & vowed to never remarry; 1918 resigned the paper along with Older
- From 1918-1940s was highly sought after freelance writer
- In 1920 became first biographer of Herbert Hoover
- Was highest paid female writer in the 1920s

January 1921 portrait
from Wikimedia Commons

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Rose Wilder-Lane (1886–1968)

- In 1926, with Helen Dore Boylston & French maid Yvonne traveled from France to Albania in Model-T they had named "Zenobia". An account of the journey, Travels With Zenobia: Paris to Albania by Model T Ford was published in 1983.
- Wrote two successful best selling novels:
 - Let the Hurricane Roar was adapted as a radio serial dramatized by Helen Hayes
 - She was paid $30K in 1938 by the Saturday Evening Post for the right to publish Free Land in serial form
- In 1938 she purchased a 3 acre estate in Danbury, CT where she lived for the rest of her life

January 1921 portrait
from Wikimedia Commons

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Rose Wilder-Lane (1886–1968)

- In 1930s began formulating libertarian views; by 1940 friends with writer John Patric
- During WWII she wrote a weekly column for the Pittsburgh Courier with entrepreneurial themes highly critical of New Deal policies
- In 1943, she was investigated by FBI & CT Police for subversive activities
- In 1943, The Discovery of Freedom published
- Along with Ayn Rand & Isabel Paterson considered a “founding mothers” of American libertarianism
- In later years was a war correspondent in Vietnam
- She died 30 Oct 1968 at home in Danbury, CT

January 1921 portrait
from Wikimedia Commons

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Edmund Rice Ancestry of Rose Wilder Lane via the Wilders

- Rose Wilder Lane, daughter of
- Almanso James Wilder (1857-1949), son of
- James Mason Wilder (1813-1899), son of
- Abel Wilder (1784-1849), son of
- Daniel Wilder (1763- ?), son of
- William Wilder (1717- ?), son of
- Sarah Wilder (nee White) (1692? -1754), daughter of
- Mary White (nee Rice) (1656-1733), daughter of
- Thomas Rice (1625/26 -1681), son of
- Edmund Rice (ca 1594-1663)

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Kate Rice (1882-1963)

- Born Kathleen Creighton Starr Rice on December 22, 1882 to Henry Lincoln Rice and Charlotte (Carter) Rice 12 June 1889 in St. Mary's, Ontario.
- Studied physics, mathematics and astronomy at University of Toronto, graduating BS degree in 1906 & from 1908-10 taught math at Albert College in Belleville, Ontario
- Took up mountaineering in 1911 in the Canadian Rockies and was one of first women members of Alpine Club of Canada
- Though her brother Lincoln purchased a farm in The Pas, Manitoba & began farming in 1913 (women could not legally own land until 1929)

Kate Rice 1906. University of Toronto Yearbook

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 - 1912

Kate Rice (1882-1963)

- In 1913 gold discovered 90 km Beaver Lake Manitoba; takes up study of geology; befriends Cree and learned Cree language, trapping, hunting & dog mushing; obtained grubstake for prospecting
- Struck out toward the north, discovered mineral deposits including copper, zinc, nickel & filed several claims
- In partnership with Richard Woosey sold many claims leading to development of major mining center in Thompson, Manitoba; but lost much in 1930s
- In retirement after 1940, engaged in writing in astronomical & meteorological journals about her scientific observations

Kate Rice in the 1930s at her cabin near Wekusko Lake, Manitoba

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Kate Rice (1882-1963)

- Left the wilderness in 1960 concerned about her health
- In 1962 she moved herself into a nursing home in Minnedosa, Manitoba.
- She died penniless January 2, 1963 in Minnedosa
- Inducted into Canadian Mining Hall of Fame in 2013

Kate Rice in her dog sled in the 1920s

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 - 1912

Edmund Rice Ancestry of Kate Rice

- Kathleen Creighton Starr Rice (1882 - 1963), daughter of
- Henry Lincoln Rice (1857 - 1933) , son of
- Rev. Samuel Dwight Rice (1815 - 1884), son of
- Dr. Samuel Rice (1769 - 1854)*, son of
- Samuel Rice (1693 - 1781), son of
- Joshua Rice (1661 - 1734), son of
- Samuel Rice (1634 - 1685), son of
- Edmund Rice (ca1594 – 1663)

- * Samuel Rice (1769) is identified as physician in ERA Database, but no reference to S.D. Rice as son. Two children of Samuel in ERA files
- confirmed in Family Search & Find-a-Grave Databases

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Lilian Jeannette Rice (1889-1938)

- Born 12 June 1889 to Julius Augustus Rice and Laura (Steele) Rice in National City, CA
- Studied architecture at UC-Berkeley, graduating BLit degree in 1910 & spent a postgrad year to earn a teaching certificate; began designing in 1909
- In 1911 began formal career working for Hazel Wood Waterman in San Diego.
- Also taught drafting at Russ HS and later at SD State Teachers College (now SDSU)
- In 1921 selected by Richard Requa as lead planner for development of Rancho Santa Fe; from 1922 to 1927 she designed civic center, businesses & about 60 residences

Lilian J Rice ca1910. Photo from Rancho Santa Fe Historical Society

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 - 1912

Photos of Lillian J. Rice

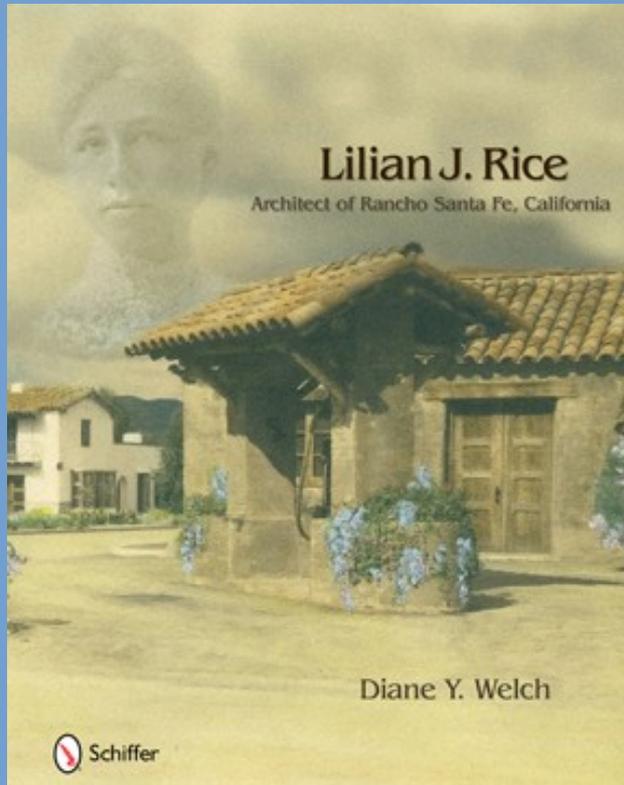

Photos from <http://www.lilianjrice.com/>

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 - 1912

Examples of Architectural Works by Lillian J. Rice

Welch, Diane Y. (2010).
Lilian J. Rice: Architect of Rancho Santa Fe, California.
Schiffer Publishing, Ltd. ,
Atglen, Pennsylvania. 224pp.

Monograph with nearly 394
photos of Lilian Rice's work

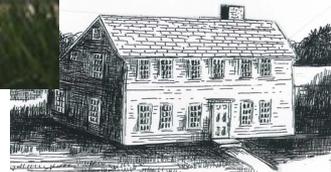

<http://www.dianeywelch.com/>

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Photos from <http://www.lilianjrice.com/>

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Lilian Jeannette Rice (1889-1938)

- Began her own firm in 1928 upon her licensure & became member of SD Chapter of American Institute of Architecture in 1931
- Work from her own firm included residences in La Jolla, CA and the boathouse of the historic ZLAC Women's Rowing Club on Mission Bay in San Diego
- Tragically diagnosed with ovarian cancer in July 1938 and died at her home in RSF on 22 December 1938, just shy of 50 years old
- She was cremated & ashes buried at La Vista Memorial Park in hometown National City

Lilian J Rice grave marker at La Vista Memorial Park, National City.
Photo by Diane Y. Welch

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 - 1912

Edmund Rice Ancestry of Lilian Jeannette Rice

- Lilian Jeanette Rice, daughter of
- Julius Augustus Rice (1854-1933), son of
- Azro Aritis Rice (1828-1916), son of
- Luther Rice (1799-1876), son of
- Eliakim Rice (1756-1834), son of
- Zebulon Rice (1725-1799), son of
- Elisha Rice (1679-1761), son of
- Thomas Rice (1625/26-1681), son of
- Edmund Rice (ca 1594-1663)

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912

Thank You

Questions?

Deacon Edmund Rice Homestead
Wayland, MA 1643 – 1912